STEP ONE

During your home study you will learn to choose and assembly equipment, understand the effects of pressure on the body while SCUBA diving, plan a fun and enjoyable dive, and how to use a personal dive computer (PDC).

STEP TWO

In Step two you will review the knowledge you gain from your home study. Next, you actually get wet for the first time and learn how to perform skills in a controlled environment. The instructor will teach you how to assemble the equipment, clear a mask, recover a regulator, and a few other skills.

STEP THREE

This is the part of the training you have been working towards and are able to see underwater world for the first time while scuba diving. The instructor will take you diving, for a minimum of four dives in an ocean, lake, or spring and apply all the knowledge and skills learned in the previous two phases of training. CONGRATULATIONS, YOU'RE A DIVER!
